

Helping Families with Autism Qigong Massage

A documentary film
Directed by Donna Read

PREMIERE EVENT

The "mission"

To offer the community an opportunity to learn about how families experience the Qigong (Chee Gong) massage autism treatment method in documentary film form. To present a forum panel of western medical doctors, Chinese medicine practitioners, occupational and massage therapists, educators and parents to give first hand information and answer questions. Offer a private reception for VIP individuals who would be beneficial supporters of this treatment to network.

Forum

Moderator

John Killoran, Director of the Teaching Research Institute

Panelists

- Dr. Louisa Silva, M.D., M.P.H., lead researcher and trainer on the Qigong Sensory Training protocol
- Dr. Sudge Budden, Medical Director of Pediatric Development Department, Legacy Emmanuel Children's Hospital
- Carol Bunse, M.A., early intervention professor and researcher, retired from the Teaching Research Institute, trained QST
- Barbara Avila, certified relationship development intervention consultant, President of the Autism Society of Oregon Board
- Annie Matlick, a therapist featured in the documentary
- Bonnie Zwang, early intervention physical therapist
- Sheila Banks, former regional early intervention program administrator
- Two parents from families featured in the documentary

VIP reception

A private reception to network with VIP individuals possibly interested in supporting this treatment will be offered following the forum.

Contact

Laine Latimer

C.E.O., The Latimer Group, Inc.

503-859-2299 (office) or 503-949-7702 (mobile)

laine@latimergroup.com

Date

Saturday, April 10, 2010

Time

Documentary from 2-3 p.m.
Expert Q&A panel from 3-4 p.m.
VIP reception from 4-5 p.m.

Location

Pacific Room of Werner
University Center
Located at the Western Oregon
University campus
345 N. Monmouth Ave.
Monmouth, Ore. 97361

Dr. Louisa Silva's book:

